

THE BEST PRODUCTS TO CODDLE YOUR WINTER LIPS

You can bundle yourself up in the colder months from head to toe, but your precious pucker may still be vulnerable to the elements. Frigid temperatures, wind, sun and dry heat can cause chapped lips, rough texture and, in the worst case, painful cracks. Though the cosmetic aisle offers lots of lip products, there are some you should avoid during this time. “Deep pigmented lipsticks, and matte lipsticks in particular, contain stronger pigments that can irritate lips and cause peeling,” explains cosmetic dermatologist Paul Jarrod Frank. “If you want to wear color, glosses and balms are good options because they’re more emollient, as is a moisturizing lipstick.” It’s also important to remove dry flakes beforehand so moisturizers penetrate better. We’ve tracked down a plethora of soothing solutions, from exfoliators to full-on lip kits, to keep your kisser safeguarded in winter.

BEST LIP EXFOLIATORS

Glo Minerals Exfoliating Lip Wand ($15.50) is a stick balm with tiny crystals to exfoliate dry skin, making it the perfect way to prep lips for color. At the same time, its waxy, jojoba base moisturizes your mouth.

Fresh Sugar Lip Polish ($22.50) conditions your pucker while exfoliating it, thanks to real brown sugar crystals (almost good enough to eat!), grapeseed oils, shea butter and meadowfoam seed. It tastes yummy while leaving lips super supple.

The Lip Scrub by Sara Happ ($24) de-flakes dry lips with lots of flavor. Available in easy-to-tote pots, this cult favorite comes in peppermint, vanilla bean, brown sugar, green apple, red velvet, crème brûlée, black velvet cherry and limited-edition blood orange.

BEST NON-TINTED LIP BALMS

Kiehl's Lip Balm # 1 ($7) has been around over 40 years. As its name implies, this basic lip balm is the brand's best seller. And for good reason: it softens your pucker with almond oil, vitamins A and E and lanolin without being sticky.

The Body Shop Vitamin E Lip Care Stick SPF 15 ($8) is a must for every winter coat pocket. It wards off chapped skin with vitamin E and the sun's burning rays with SPF 15. The vanilla flavor makes it delicious when worn either alone or under a lip color.

La Roche-Posay Nutritic Lips ($15.95) is an essential option for extra-dry, super-chapped lips. It glides on effortlessly to soothe painful, sensitive skin and leave it instantly comforted.
